THE WOMAN WHO WORRIED.

Let me sing you a song of a woman I know,

Who always was worried and hurried;

Don't ask me her name, it's all the same,

Just call her "The Woman Who Worried."

There was never a battle with just and meek,

For months were never than long;

And so, poor thing, she spent all the spring,

Fighting things into battles and long.

She worried at men and she worried at work,

And worried when night descended;

For without some hour and without some worry

The day had been well ended.

And she'd carry her burden of household care

Till sleep put an end to her labor;

And the day was over, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And the children stayed on when they could,

For mother was always hurried,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

And the cat went to live at a neighbor's.

And her husband grew old, and she was to stay,

And she was a busy body, and she was to stay,

RHEUMATISM IS AN ACCUMULATION OF POISONOUS FOREIGN MATTER IN THE SYSTEM, CAUSING INFLAMMATION, LAMENESS, ETC. WHERE THIS FOREIGN MATTER COMES FROM IS NOT CERTAIN—IT MAY BE URIC ACID WHICH THE KIDNEYS HAVE FAILED TO ELIMINATE; IT MAY BE THE STOMACH IS DIGESTING THE FOOD IMPROPERLY; OR IT MAY BE THAT SOME POISONOUS MATTER FROM OUTSIDE HAS GRAFTED INTO THE BODY. THE IMPORT-RHOMOC WILL ABSORPTIVELY CURE RHEUMATISM BY DRIVING OUT THESE IMPURITIES FROM THE SYSTEM. RHOMOC IS NATURE'S PRESCRIPTION FOR RHEUMATISM, AND LIKE OTHER MAGNIFICENT WORKS OF NATURE, EXCELS ANYTHING POSSIBLE FOR MAN TO ACHIEVE. ASK FOR RHOMOLY.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

"The letter announcing your engagement reached us in Madrid. I've never been in the East for nearly nine years. When I arrived, I found that your husband had gone abroad. For a year I tried life in the street, but I could not stand for it. Then I tried shooting lions in Africa and tigers in India. That was a life more than I could stand. I was visiting with a mighty good fellow on Curzon's staff when I heard—quite by accident—that you were in Paris. I was so excited I carried my face westward. I did not intend to stop in Paris—but you were there. I thought—great heavens, how I hoped you'd be glad to see me, but you were not. I could not stay. I was obliged to come home. I am now engaged in engineering. I want to know why."

"The woman had been listening with bowed head, but with a strangely luminous gaze. She said:

Never Saw Her, But—

The following fragment of conversation was overheard in a park on a wet Sunday morning between two well dressed ladies:

"I met a very nice girl who looked at me so pointedly just now!"

"No dear. Which one?"

"It was just as we were passing the 'Achilles' statue."

"Which one? You mean the one in a gray Eton jacket with blue silk blouse and a strapped skirt to match, a blue belt with a blue row of green velvet, plain gray kid gloves attached with black ribbons, a blue and white striped skirt and high beeled patent leather shoes, a spotted veil and a blue parasol?"

"No dear, that was the one."

"No, No! I didn't notice her. In

"I really don't see that he has anything to do with our little affair, provided you return her daughter heart whole and free from international entanglements," he answered vigorously.

A shadow fell across the her of light, then another, and the figure of a girl was silhouetted against the brilliant interior of the ship.

"Mrs. Burns, are you? We're to have a grand old fashioned Virginia reel to celebrate our lost night on board. Do hurry up! We have a partner waiting for you!"

Then as Hackett's dark figure suddenly loomed up behind Mrs. Burns he glanced mischievously at Ruth and explained, with a happy ring of ownership in his voice:

"Won't I do for her partner? I rather think this dance is mine!"

Dollhouse Tract.

I watched them on the street car—the little mother and her manly boy of nine or ten.

Before them was seated a white haired man, whose almost entirely alighted eyes were hidden behind a pair of dark glasses. The man was fixating to lustre or lustation, whichever one may call it, more than to sight to tell him when he had reached his particular corner. Closely he held his face to the glass and hesitatingly reached his hand toward it.

"Mother," whispered the manly boy, "may I not ask him where he wants to get off and help him too?"

One glance at the proud, pale face, and the little mother would tell.

"No, no; I don't believe he would like to be made feel dependent."

Then as quick as thought she said in

George: Is your father a banker?
Mam-Na: Why?
George:—Nothing; only your little brother seems to be a teller.

A Foot of Strength.

"Papa," said Little Willie, who was looking at a picture of Atlas, "nobody could hold the world on their back could they?"

"Yes, my son, about that," answered

"I'm telling the man's hand went to the left. Seventh was evidently his street he wanted."

"I fancy that when that boy has grown to be a man any expression of the fear clearly that is now latent in his heart will be accompanied by text in action and that is looking back over the years he will remember the lesson; that they were good ones; that his mother taught him—St. Louis Globe-Democrat."

"I have often wondered," remarked the man who likes to suggest things to the editor, "why your paper does not run a department devoted to automobile news."

"Because,"

"I saw Klammey's baby yesterday. It's a regular chip off the old block."

"Why, I couldn't see any resemblance at all."

"Oh, yes," when I saw the kid I had just opened his mouth and put his foot in it"—Philadelphia Press.

"An Unfortunate 'Whip.'"

It was the clerk's first day in his new position. He had formerly worked for a haberdasher.

"I wish to get a dog collar," said the customer.

"For yourself?" asked the clerk at last.

"Why, I never saw them," said the suggester.

Is a cemetery at Middlebury, Vt. is a stone erected by a widow to her loved husband, bearing this inscription:

"Rest in Peace—Until We Meet Again—Life."

This image is a vertical, high-contrast black and white scan. It features a prominent vertical line that divides the frame into two distinct sections. The left section is a light gray, textured surface, possibly representing a page or a wall. The right section is a solid, dark black area. The overall appearance is that of a document or a photograph that has been scanned or photographed in a way that creates a stark, binary visual effect. There are some minor artifacts and noise visible along the vertical line and in the lighter section.

...WISHES YOU ALL...
A Happy New Year.

WHO DRIVES?

It's hardly necessary for us to tell you who has the lines in this picture. Everybody knows who the happy, long-lived old man is who makes us all glad once a year. This would you think Christmas is coming and that you must get ready. Help old Santa out and he will be your friend forever.

It's a pleasure when driven in the picture, but it's just as plain who drives in our line of business.

WE DRIVE

and our competitors can be found. If you don't believe this come and see for yourself. We are going to have a never drive before, and the people are finding it not too. You will know when you see how many come into our store. Have you ever been here? If you have you will come again, and if you haven't we want to see you. Why? Read this:

FANCY AND STAPLE GROCERIES

are necessary at all times, but what would a home be at Christmas time without all the good things that our store furnishes? Christmas time means an extra supply of staples of all kinds for the people who gather around the home table bringing from the long ride. We have everything that you need in preparation for the feast—all the specialties that the cook needs to make the good things. You know what is needed. If you don't, ask the cook and then come down and leave your order. We will take it to the home for you. Before the Christmas dinner is ready the children will want such things as these to munch on.

Oranges, Nuts, Dates and Crackers, we have them all and of the very best. Our oranges, dried fruits and extracts are superlative and make delicious pastries.

Algonquin Club Coffee makes you feel like a king. Real Tea from the East that will make you see visions, 45c, 50c, 55c, per pound. Try them. Our store is well lighted so you can see what you are buying.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

—The cantata, "The Coming of the King," will be presented at the M. R. Church, East Weymouth, Sunday p.m. at 7 o'clock.

—Charles Sample is confined to the home with a severe attack of tonsillitis.

—Miss Elise Foster of the Weymouth Normal School is to leave for the Christmas recess.

—Next Sunday evening, at the Baptist Church, the preaching service will be held up stairs, in the auditorium, instead of in the vestry as of late. The observance of Lent will be maintained at the close of the sermon. Prayer meeting and reception of members this, Friday, evening, at 7:30.

—School supplies, all kinds at J. H. Walsh's.

—Mrs. F. M. Brown of Washington street is confined to the house by illness.

—Susanne Tatis Chapter, D. A. B., will meet with Mrs. H. J. Bachelder on Monday, Dec. 29th at 3:15 p.m. and as it is the last meeting of the year it is hoped all members will be present. Mrs. Baker, regent of the Col. Thomas Luther Chapter of Colchester and Mrs. Harkins of the Old South Chapter will be guests of the afternoon and add to the entertainment.

—Don't forget the neonol association, next and half of the Fore River Ship and Engine Company's employees to be held in Music hall, Quincy, next Wednesday evening.

—In Sunday morning at the First Universalist Church Rev. Mr. Nash presided on the subject of Christmas, taking his text from Matt. 24:42. "What think ye of Christ?" Mrs. Bates sang the solo "The Story of the Christ Child," by Shepard, and Mrs. Thompson sang the solo in the anthem "We have seen the stars." The choir was rendered by the choir. Next Sunday evening at 8:20 o'clock a Christmas concert will be given by the Sunday School.

—Violent water dries per bottle at Harlow's.

—Miss Carrie Peterson, who teaches in Brookline, is enjoying her Christmas vacation at home.

—All the leading brands, cigars and tobacco, at Walsh's perfumery store.

—Samuel E. Cline, who has been making a business trip through New York state arrived home on Friday last to spend the Christmas with his family.

—Mrs. George Lord, formerly of this place, and now residing in South Weymouth, is receiving congratulations on the birth of a little daughter which arrived on Wednesday of last week.

—Just received fancy package of perfume for New Year's presents at Harlow's.

—The Ladies' Social Circle of the First Universalist Society met with Mrs. A. W. Clapp on Monday evening last, to hear the report of the recent annual fair which took place at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Clapp. A number of ladies were present and the report proved to be a very satisfactory one, there being money enough in the treasury to pay all bills, and some to spare.

—Miss Abigail of Wollaston, has been visiting her father, John Abigail of Front street, this week.

—Fancy boxes of chocolates at J. H. Walsh's.

—Miss Ellen Hain, who teaches in one of the schools of Rochester, Vt., is spending her Christmas vacation with her mother to-day.

—Mrs. Follett of Washington street was taken to a hospital in Roxbury, on Sunday last, where she will undergo an operation.

—Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock a Christmas tree and good time was given the pupils of the First Universalist Sunday School in the vestry of the church. Christmas music was sung by the children after which presents were made by the teacher, followed by prayer. The tree was tastefully decorated with evergreen and tinsel and filled with presents for the children, teachers and officers of the school and a package of Christmas candy given to each and all. Rev. Mr. Nash presided on the subject of Christmas, taking his text from the Gospel of Luke, chapter 2, verse 14. The church last Sunday some fifty presents were sent to the Salvation Army and Volunteers of America and through his efforts the school here and the Sunday School of the Universalist Church at South Weymouth, will take it to the home for you. There will be about 150 presents. These will be distributed among children and to homes where Christmas is hardly known and where there may be no presents but these, thus doing a good deed of good and ensuring a happy Christmas for all among the children of our own community. The other members of the society were asked to bring something to be sent to the almshouse of this town. It was the pastor's wish to send a package to each one of the inmates and this could be well responded to that a good sized box was sent.

—Ferguson's bakery goods, fresh every day, at Bates' waiting room, Lincoln square.

—The Christmas tree exercises at the Baptist Church here on Wednesday evening were full of interest and delight to the many present. Among the chief workers of the occasion were the Misses Leona Shaw, Alice Sanborn, Maud Salisbury, and Florence and Mildred Smith, Harriet Sawyer, John Bondary and Herbert Lord.

—The Sign of the Inheritance will be the subject of the sermon by Rev. William Hyde in Trinity Church next Sunday morning. The service will be a Christmas one, and the music will be the same as on Christmas Day.

—To account of the scarcity and price of coal, the evening services at Trinity Church will be omitted for the present. The morning services and Sunday school will be held as usual, the hours being 10:30 a.m. and 12 m.

—Hot chocolate, tomato bouillon and drinks of all kinds at Bates' waiting room.

—Halpa Wilbury is spending a few days with friends in Viduuset.
